MARKET ENGAGEMENT INVITATION

This is Gravity Ltd in collaboration with Agratas Ltd, would like to invite any interested parties to a Market Engagement Event for the procurement of a Water Supply and Wastewater Infrastructure Provider. This will be procured under the OFWAT NAV (New Appointments and Variations) regulated procedure.

PROPOSED OPPORTUNITY

The proposed opportunity is to design, build, finance, own and operate water supply and wastewater treatment assets for developments at the This is Gravity site, near Bridgwater, Somerset. The Gravity site is a new Smart Campus with approximately £4bn of investment over 616 acres.

The chosen partner will be responsible for the water abstraction, distribution and treatment as well as the wastewater treatment and discharge system, including greywater reuse as part of the integrated water supply solution. This will help to increase sustainability and water use onsite, reduce pumping requirements and the utilities' carbon footprint in accordance with the requirements of the Local Development Order.

Whilst this will primarily be of interest to New Appointments and Variations (NAVs), there will be a clear need for a wide range of supply chain partners. Therefore it is strongly encouraged that all levels of the supply chain are in attendance and well-represented to ensure a holistic view of feedback from the market.

THE EVENT

The aims of the event are to:

- Inform interested parties of the proposed opportunity;
- Obtain direct feedback and commentary from parties, to then review and optimise the opportunity as considered appropriate;
- Facilitate networking between parties and allow for potential collaboration in response to the opportunity; and
- Prepare the market in readiness for the launch of a formal procurement process.

The event will be hosted by PAUL LOWNDES, Programme Director at This is Gravity and THOMAS SHERIFI, Global Environment and Sustainability Manager from Agratas, with support from members of the project team.

Please note that this is an in-person event ONLY and the information provided on the day will be available afterwards to those that have registered.
